

Position: Youth Advocate

Purpose: To promote safety, stability, and well-being for Runaway and Homeless Youth (RHY). Youth Advocates engage youth using the Positive Youth Development model to build a path to long-term success through positive relationships and skills for self-sufficiency.

Qualifications: Some combination of relevant college courses and work experience in human services and/or with vulnerable youth populations. Youth Advocates must understand the issues of youth homelessness, sexual identity/preference (LGBTQ), substance abuse, mental health and trauma, abuse, and adolescent development. They must desire to participate in the coordination of services and program development in an interdisciplinary team setting; have the ability to integrate and reconnect youth with natural supports and community resources; and know how to maintain a safe environment – physically and emotionally – for all youth.

To join Jackson Street’s staff, applicants must pass a criminal background history check; have a driver’s license and a driving record sufficient to qualify as approved driver; be available to work flexible shifts at Jackson Street’s shelters in Albany and Corvallis, including nights and weekends; be willing/able to work across a three county region (Linn-Benton-Lincoln) as needed; and have or obtain First Aid/CPR and Oregon Food Handlers certifications.

Applicants must make a good-faith commitment to stay in the position for at least one year, and must be willing to embrace Jackson Street’s mission and values. Bi-lingual/Bi-cultural applicants are preferred.

Responsibilities:

GENERAL

- Ensure that youth, volunteers, interns, and visitors adhere to Jackson Street’s rules and procedures.
- Practice an understanding and respect for youth culture, families, and family systems. Use respectful language and listen in a non-judgmental ways.
- Implement the core competencies of Positive Youth Development (belonging, competence, usefulness, and inclusion) in interactions with youth.
- Use harm-reduction and youth-empowerment models to provide on-going support, skill building, and crisis management.
- Motivate and engage youth in creative and encouraging ways, individually and in groups.
- Remain available and supportive to cover shelter shifts, including substituting for other staff on occasion.

DIRECT CARE

- Be part of a team providing effective 24/7 supervision for youth in care.
- Implement the normal structures and routines at Jackson Street’s Emergency and Transitional houses.
